Abstract

The education system plays an important role in the development of the society. Today's students will be tomorrow's youth and will be responsible for creating a non-discriminated society. Educators should foster in student equality, promote and strengthen the constitutional culture and stability. To promote equality, it will be necessary to provide equal opportunities to all not only in access to education, but also in the conditions for success. Everyone has to be reminded of the inherent equality of all through the education. The purpose is to remove prejudices and complexes transmitted through the social environment and the accident of birth. It is important to ensure in the context of the Indian reality that all the educational programmes are carried out in strict conformity with the secular values. The education system must play a positive role in the empowerment of people and removal of all kinds of biases which are basically man made. Creation of a citizen who is conscious of his rights and duties and committed to the principles embodied in our constitution is a pre requisite to social advancement, economic development and political progress of our country. The Constitution of India visualizes development of a pluralistic, open society, based on the principles of equality and social justice. Discrimination may be latent, patent, open or subtle. It is a mind set
