RED RIBBON CLUB

A Red Ribbon Club (RRC) is a movement initiated by the Indian government in educational institutions to raise awareness about HIV/AIDS among students. This club runs under the aegis of NACO and Rajasthan state AIDS control Society. Aim of the club is to educate youth about HIV/AIDS prevention, care, and treatment, while also promoting voluntary blood donation. The red ribbon itself is a symbol of HIV/AIDS awareness and support for those affected.

OBJECTIVES

Awareness on HIV/AIDS – To spread correct information about HIV/AIDS transmission, prevention, and care, reducing stigma and discrimination.

Promote Healthy Lifestyles – Encourage voluntary blood donation, safe sexual behavior, and prevention of substance abuse.

Youth Involvement – Involve students in community outreach and peer education on HIV/AIDS and related health issues.

Life Skills Development – Equip youth with skills in communication, decision-making, and leadership to make informed health choices.

Social Responsibility – Foster values of compassion, care, and social service among students through health-related activities.

Voluntary Blood Donation – Motivate and organize regular voluntary blood donation drives in the community.
