

Best Practice I

Capacity Building and Empowerment Programs (2020-2021)

Objectives of the Practice

College predominantly sets its vision and the mission as the benchmark in all endeavors that clearly states that the college focuses on empowering through capacity building and cultivating abilities, and also develop life skills for self-reliance.

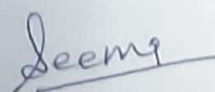

The Objectives/Intended Outcomes of this Practice:

1. To empower and inculcate the sense of ownership so that the students can gain control over their future development.
2. Imparting Education for overall development by sensitizing their potential.
3. Strengthening their skills and resources which will enhance their ability to envision.
4. Fostering personal growth and leadership qualities by providing appropriate learning ambiance.
5. Transforming students into a new responsible workforce and employment ready for sustainable growth.

Underlying Principles

Potency of this practice depends on four major principles -

1. Relevance- The Program is framed keeping in mind the need and to extend the outreach of women's education
2. Responsiveness- The concept of the program generates awareness of the trends in the outside world which makes the students competition-ready.
3. Efficacy- The program effectivity is such that it enables the participation of women in public domain.
4. Flexibility- Program nurtures women to disseminate knowledge and to inculcate critical and analytical thinking.

The Context

With more than 6500 students coming from different social, cultural and economic background the challenges and opportunities run parallel. Being a reputed institution for women's education, students not only from the city but also from neighboring villages and districts come here belonging to different income strata with differing opportunities of education which makes it a heterogeneous group. Students born and brought up in the city have greater exposure and access to information in comparison to their fellow peers who are stepping out for the first time from their homes to pursue higher education. On the other hand, challenges faced by students on their personal front are beyond imagination. Some face gender discrimination at home, possess fewer opportunities of personal growth and little or no awareness about their rights. Hence at times students tend to suffer from low self-esteem. With such a disparate group there are multifarious challenges.

- Executing the transition from a diffident self to 'I Can' is the biggest one out of all.
- And this ultimately results in difficulty to strike a balance between value and practice for growth orientation.
- To meet the needs of global work environment, selecting the right kind of program for a heterogeneous group.
- Due to the limited resources at the end of the students, making it accessible for every economic strata was a challenge.

Capacity building initiatives have to be interwoven in a manner to enable easy access to the students.

The Practice

Adhering to the mission statement, to keep pace with changing time and changing role expectation of women, the college strengthens its regular academic programs by offering additional courses and opportunities for developing life skills in the students. College follows a healthy tradition of having Clubs and Subject Associations to provide students with broad diversity of experiences and exposure. In addition to this college carves out its niche in capacity building by offering various Skill Enhancement (Certified) courses to the students on minimal or no fee structure. Thus college is providing with such effective Forums for Learning that contribute in empowering students for outside world.

Trips and Excursions

Educational tours play an important role in educating students in a practical and interesting manner. Something that is seen in real can be easily perceived than something that we simply read in book. So taking students to trips that will relate to their academics can help them learn much better. Educational tours can also be a way to fun and recreation.

Coaching Classes

The college has been offering coaching classes from the academic session 2017-18, for the students of all streams with the aim of promoting competitive efficiency for entry in various services. The coaching classes guide the students as to how to face various examinations like those conducted by UPSC, RPSC, SSC, Bank Recruitments and UGC NET. Students efficiency and Reasoning, Mathematics, General English, and General Knowledge is polished in these classes by experts who helped them develop insights about these competitive examinations.

College organises student centric and student oriented workshops and exhibitions also. Eventually, the aim of these activities is the holistic development of the student. This is because in a world where organizations and markets are constantly changing, academic qualifications and technical skills are only a part of the picture. What is more important is the application of the knowledge and the adaptability to use the acquired skills.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

A. Problems Encountered

- At times, for students, education is restricted to solely acquiring a degree due to which there is a need of motivation and realization of the worth of these capacity building programs.
- Less inclination of the students due to allied stature of these courses and no weightage in the evaluation system of the university is given to personality development, presentation skills, soft skills, hence an apathy, towards all such capacity building initiatives can be seen.
- Parents are not oriented with the scope of such courses hence discourage their child to join such courses.

B. Resources Required

- The College has adequate ICT equipped infrastructure for the activities and meeting of the Clubs and Skill Enhancement Courses. Students in serious pursuit of careers are active participants.
 - Trainers for conducting some of the skill enhancement courses are generously paid.

Best Practice II

Community Development (2020-2021)

Objectives of the Practice

Community Development plays a significant role in inculcation of ethics and promoting value-based education system. This practice evolves the distinct ideology and exemplifies how indispensable community work is for the development of ethical framework.

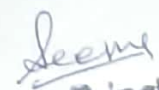

The Objectives/Intended Outcomes of this Practice

1. To gather up to date information about needs, problems, sources, and resources of the community.
2. To chalk out and implement programmes needed for effectively tackling the needs and problems of people in the community.
3. To motivate people to participate in the programmes meant for general community upliftment and create awareness on various issues confronting their community.
4. To provide training facilities and establish coordination between various individuals, groups and organizations associated with upliftment programmes for the benefit of the community.
5. To introduce necessary reforms eradicating various kinds of widely spread social taboos deeply rooted in the social fabric of the community.

Underlying Principles

Potency of this practice depends on four major principles:

1. Planning- A meticulous planning is adhered to for any kind of community work which also helps in identifying challenges likely to be faced in the course of action.
2. Participation- People are encouraged to participate in programs in accordance with their capacity.
3. Flexible organization- Institute forms different committees that carry out varied community works and services.

Kanoria PG Mahila Mahavidyalaya
JAIPUR

4. Optimum Utilization of Indigenous Resources- Functioning of every programme is supported by the college with minimum dependency on outside help.

The Context

In any organization, professionalism comes through enhanced use of values and principles. Kanoria College has been setting a benchmark with its community services since time immemorial. The process has never stopped since the time it was established in the form of school for deaf and dumb. The welfare of the whole community has always been the priority of the college than the interest or wellbeing of any one agency or group.

Binding together diverse groups of people comprised in the community and to develop cohesion, common ideas, feelings, traditions, celebrations, and festivities is though important, not easy one. People are often more concerned about their daily task than coming up with the vision of community's future. There are challenges in the form of mind set, financial burdens, authentic collaborations, understanding the exact needs of the society and facing the existing social taboos. Development of community requires participation of people and to maintain that interest and commitment towards the process of community development was a challenging task.

The Practice

Adhering to the Vision statement, college instills a deep and lasting respect for 'the world of the mind', steadfastness of values and commitment to social concerns. College puts in every possible effort to contribute in the development of the community and social welfare.

1. NSS Unit – College has a reinforced unit of NSS that organizes awareness programmes and social welfare activities all year round. It is an active body of the college with numerous community development programs to its credit.
2. Empowering Women- Kanoria college being an all girls college, not only academically strengthens women but also raises voice for women in different spheres of the society. To materialize this mission, college is collaboratively working with various organizations like RUWA, Shakti

Stambh, Mahila Salah Suraksha Kendra (Dr. Rashmi Chaturvedi, Director, Kanoria College, is the Former President of WRG).

3. Camps and Programs – Faculty of the College keeps indulging in lot of social welfare programs like conducting awareness programs for the under-privileged, organizing workshops on Nutrition and Psychological well-being. These programs and workshops are conducted voluntarily.
4. Collaborative Projects- College tries to use the optimum resources available at its end and if they don't suffice it collaborates with various organizations and NGOs for the smooth conduction of Community Development programs.
5. Philanthropic Initiatives- Keeping well synchronized with its mission, college has left no stone unturned in reaching out to people in times of needs. From donating money to Corona Relief Fund, Rajasthan Government in both the waves to delivering 1000 food packets everyday to the needy and homeless, College has always been ahead in volunteering for such benevolent duties.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

A. Problems Encountered

- The student fraternity at large is facing this challenge of logical expression of relevant issues.
- It becomes challenging to attract students from the remote areas of Rajasthan to be a part of this practice.
- Difficulties in motivating large number of female students because of conservative family background and lack of awareness.
- It is difficult to handle the large group of students in limited span of time and with availability of limited resources.

B. Resources Required

- College believes in optimum utilization of resources, but when it comes to the betterment of the society college doesn't compromise at any level and thus resources are made accessible as far as possible for any community development initiative.
